

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bob Kilpatrick will be appearing in his one man opera, the multimedia concert experience called THIS CHANGES EVERYTHING on _____(date)_____ at _____(location)_____. The show begins at _____(time)_____. Using video screens, drama and high energy world music, this autobiographical snapshot of Bob's spiritual odyssey is by turns exciting, funny, moving and thought-provoking.

Bob Kilpatrick is best known for the music he has written for the church. His song "Lord Be Glorified" has been included on many millions of recordings and songbooks and on the lips of billions of Christians the world over. Some know him from producing artists like Phil Keaggy and Randy Stonehill, or through his TIME OUT program on the KLove radio network (which reaches over 2 million listeners each week), or through his magazine articles and essays. With THIS CHANGES EVERYTHING, Bob Kilpatrick is writing a new and different chapter in his life and career. Indeed, this does change everything. Penning songs of surprising candor, Bob went back to the musical styles he loved as a teenager- the sitar, tablas, talking drums and multilayered Beatlesque harmonies, combining those with pop stylings a la U2 and Peter Gabriel to come up with a sound that is at once a Sound and No Sound at all. No two songs in the concert sound alike. This was not intentional; it was one of those happy accidents.

Bob started writing and recording these songs with no project in mind. It was a musical medium for a spiritual catharsis occasioned by the death of his spiritual mentor. However, as more songs came to him, he began to see a thread weaving through them all, and THIS CHANGES EVERYTHING was born. THIS CHANGES EVERYTHING addresses our fears about mortality, the cares we needlessly carry, the futility of life and, ultimately, the hope that is offered to us.
